WORK BEGINS ON NEW RAILROAD

Surveyors Set Final Grade Stakes and Work Begins at Once—Still Other Possibilities

A full crew of surveyors commenced Thursday morning to place the final grade stakes for this road, and grading will begin within a few days, probably on January 2d or 4th, at latest. The completion of the work is promised for February 20th. We cannot conceive of a more acceptable New Year's present to the people of Glendale than this road promises to be. It means that Glendale will, when this road is in operation, have railroad facilities connecting it with Los Angeles, unequalled by any other suburban town. And yet we believe that this will not be the end, but only a beginning of a revival of railroad building into this valley which will put us still more closely in touch with the great city nearby. The franchise held by the Pacific Electric on Fourth street has yet some time to run, and it is not improbable that that company will relay its track to Glendale avenue rather than lose the valuable privilege which it possesses. Other enterprises are being talked of and there is a reasonable probability that at least one of them will materialize in the not far-distant future.

CITY TRUSTEES.

All present except Mr. Watson. Mr. Blackburn was elected president pro tem. The following demands were referred to the finance committee:

J. M. Banker, services, recorder	$ 9.00

Demands 866 to 872, previously reported on by finance committee were ordered paid. Weekly report of tax collector received and filed. A communication was received requesting that the board assist in defraying the funeral expenses of George Lloyd, deceased, indigent; in reference to the same the sum of ten dollars was allowed as requested.

Report of city recorder was received and filed. A communication was received from Thos. F. Price, stating that he will convey to the city of Glendale for street purposes sufficient land to make Adams street (at corner of Third) of uniform width, for the sum of one thousand dollars. Received and placed on file.

The public works committee was instructed to take up the matter of the enforcement of Ordinance No. 60 requiring that numbers be placed on all houses and public buildings. An ordinance establishing the grade of Lomita avenue from Adams street to the east line of Glendale avenue was taken up for first reading, was read first and second times. An ordinance establishing the grade of Seventh street from Louise to Glendale avenues, was passed to third reading. A resolution designating the variety of shade trees to be planted on First street in the City of Glendale, was passed.

On motion of Trustee Anderson, Mr. J. E. Whomes was appointed city recorder and instructed to file bond for $500.

The city engineer was requested to prepare estimate of cost of sidewalk and curb on east side of Central avenue, where same not already constructed.

FOUR GENERATIONS REPRESENTED AT REUNION DINNER.

One of the splendid Christmas parties so plentifully besprinkled over our locality this Yule-tide, was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ackley, in their Lomita Park home. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. N. Nevin, the guest of honor, who on January 16th will be eighty-one years young. She is enjoying the glad Christmas festivities almost with the zest of youth. Another assisting was the son, Forest Ackley, home for the holidays from Stanford university. Another son was present, Mr. Leroy Ackley, his wife and son, "Little Robin," also Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Isaacs of Los Angeles, and their two daughters, Misses Florence and Mildred, students in Hollywood High. Mr. Isaacs is president of Woodbury Business college. The great Christmas feast was spread for four o'clock and later, there was a beautiful tree and gifts.

CINDERILLA WHIST.

About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pulliam met on Friday evening, December 18th at "Oak Leigh," home of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Hunt and forming an eerie procession, wended their way to the Pulliam residence on Kenwood street. Following admittance of guests lights were turned off and Mr. Pulliam was sent for. Of course, he was "surprised," but recovering quickly, gave every one a hearty welcome. In music room, reception hall, parlor and dining room, whist tables were quickly placed and the fun began in earnest. Gentlemen chose the toes of Cinderilla slippers (tiny and otherwise) from beneath a curtain, and owners of slippers were partners. During the games bonbons were enjoyed from dainty baskets placed upon each table, also cider from a huge pumpkin utilized as a punch bowl, which graced the center of a large table, chocolate mice and tiny pumpkins surrounding it. Misses Emma and Myrtle Pulliam presided there during the evening. House decorations were a canopy of silver tinsel, poinsettias, chrysanthemums and a beautiful Marie Antoinette basket.

Awards fell to Mrs. and Mr. Edgar Pack. Prizes were a very handsome hand-painted pepper and salt shaker and a white silk muffler, respectively. The consolation fell to Mrs. Williams. Scores were kept with pumpkin seeds, for which tiny hand-painted slippers wer used as receptacles.

Refreshments were individual pumpkin pies, salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee. The entire affair was most enjoyable and was planned by Mrs. Pulliam to honor her husband's birthday. Among the guests were several friends from Los Angeles.

FOURTH AND SIXTH STREET GRAMMAR SCHOOLS CELEBRATE TOGETHER.

The Christmas exercises for these schools called out a great number of patrons and parents. The rooms were fragrant with holly, live oak, peppers and vines. One room was a veritable bower of live oak hung with stars and bells. Miss Christianson's grade had two trees loaded with gifts, as did the grades taught by Miss Waite and Miss Hatch. The Seventh grade displayed several large posters showing admirable work by art pupils. In the Eighth grade room, Mrs. Mary O. Ryan, principal, the pictures portraying the story of the Nativity, called forth much genuine praise. The floral decorations here were also very beautiful and the room over-flowed with guests.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

While driving homeward along Verdugo road near its junction with the Eagle Rock road, Wednesday evening last, about 5:30 o'clock, Mrs. D. A. Talbott in attempting to tie a bundle which she carried, dropped the lines which falling across the horse's feet, started the animal on the run. Unable to regain possession of the lines Mrs. Talbott was helpless and the runaway galloping rapidly along the road, overtook and passed a buggy in which were riding Mr. and Mrs. Requino Verdugo and Mrs. Verdugo's sister, Miss Annie Olivas. Mr. Verdugo endeavored to overtake the runaway and in the attempt to do so when near the McIntyre place on Verdugo road, the buggy wheel ran into a hole, jolting the buggy so that Miss Olivas was thrown out, the fall breaking an ankle bone and also causing a dislocation. The runaway horse was stopped at about the same place where Miss Olivas was injured. Mrs. Talbot has a painful wound in the hand and was pretty badly shaken up, but suffered no serious injury. Drs. Hunt and Chase attended Miss Olivas, and in going there Dr. Chase's automobile collided in the darkness with a buggy driven by some person unknown, fortunately without serious results as far as heard from.

CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS AND THE THE TARIFF.

The Ways and Means committee of congress has for some time past been hearing testimony bearing upon the tariff on imports and a special session will be called after March 4th to revise the present schedule of duties. The United States has so prospered under a protective tariff during the last twelve years that there is no danger that this vital system will be eliminated. But common sense as well as common justice demands that there be changes made to better fit present conditions. It is generally conceded that some industries are receiving more tariff protection than they require. It is a subject, however, about which it seems absolutely impossible for interested parties to have any fair and unbiased opinions. California, for instance, through its representatives in congress and elsewhere and through the columns of the newspapers generally, is insisting that the products of this state shall receive the fullest measure of protection, regardless of the interests of anybody outside the limits of our state. And in this connection a generous amount of ignorance is being displayed in the anxiety to make out a case. A striking example of this is found in a recent number of the Los Angeles Times. A special correspondent of that paper under date of Dec. 17th, telegraphs from Washington an account of an incident that occurred in a hearing before the ways and means committee a day or two previously. The dispatch states that "L. R. Eastman, of the New York Dried Fruit association, tried to bunco the committee into killing the fig industry of California," by exhibiting a bunch of little dried-up figs about the size of a walnut, asking that the duty be lowered from two cents per pound to nothing. Congressman Needham resented the implication that California figs are not a first-class product. The New York man stated that the United States imports annually 25,546,000 pounds of figs, while California produces not a tithe of this amount. A similar statement was made in reference to almonds, Zante currants and some other products, all of which he claimed should be put on the free list, because they are produced in such small quantities in California that the tariff is clearly a tax on the consumer and of no particular benefit to anyone. Even judging from the biased report of the special correspondent, the New Yorker seems to have made a very fair and reasonable argument, while the correspondent and the congressman both give evidence to the fact that they knew much less about the subject than did Mr. Eastman. Congressman Needham will find it difficult to produce specimens of California figs to prove that this state has made a success in the dried fig industry; or if he should be able to secure a really good sample, he will find it impossible to prove that they are produced in commercial quantities. As for almonds, while they are produced successfully and of fine quality in some portions of the state, they have not as yet appeared in large quantities in any market that we know of. Zante currants (really a small seedless raisin) are in the same category; one of those things which we can produce, but have as yet turned out only in experimental quantities. It would seem to be the part of wisdom in our California representatives, to be willing to concede those things which it is no benefit to us to retain. If they show in this contest over the tariff a spirit of uncompromising selfishness, demanding everything and conceding nothing, they are liable to receive just what they concede.

RACE TRACK LEGISLATION.

We are in receipt of a copy of an open letter to the members of the senate and assembly of California signed by the managers of some two hundred newspapers in the state, requesting that the legislature prohibit by law, bookmaking and poolselling on horse races. We do not see how such an appeal can fail to be effective. For the last two sessions of our legislature this matter has been up before our representatives at the state capital; the evil results of the practice are indisputable; the sentiment of the majority of our people is opposed to it and a failure of our representatives to support the proposed law is almost inconceivable. Four years ago a similar law passed the assembly but was killed in the senate, owing to the influence of Senator Leavitt of Alameda county, who had and presumably still has, a large interest in the Emeryville race track. It remains to be seen which is the more potent, Senator Leavitt or the people of California.

NEWCOMERS.

We learned too late to announce in last week's issue, the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Edmonds, a week ago, of a promising boy who opened his eyes upon the world and liking the appearance of this portion of it has decided to stay and assist in making things interesting, particularly for his happy parents.

About the same time, Friday of last week, to be exact, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Volker of West Glendale, which has been named Erine.

On Monday evening last, another young citizen and prospective voter weighing twelve pounds, brought his grip-sack to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ogier, and announced his intention of staying with the family. The impartiality of the stork in visiting the east, west and central portions of our city, is as remarkable as it is commendable.

CANDY GIFTS.

At the Union High, following a debate in which the affirmative won, as to whether the old Santa Claus myth should be abolished (except, of course, for freshmen) pupils gathered in the assembly room and upon request, closed their eyes for several minutes. Excitement charged the air and when silence was no longer bearable, the scholars each discovered upon the desks a tissue-wrapped package, ribbon-tied, gifts from the faculty.

A REAL SURPRISE.

The two sections of the geography Ninth grade class on Friday evening treated their teacher, Miss Magowan to a genuine surprise at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Randolph, on Glendale avenue. A very dainty repast was furnished by the nineteen guests and music and jolly games occupied the evening. The party was given as a mark of love and appreciation to this popular teacher.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Social affairs for the year at the Geindale Country Club closed on Monday last with a brilliant Christmas party, when members and their children enjoyed the holiday program.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, assisted by Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mrs. Menzo Williams, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, Mrs. Charles Shattuck, president for the ensuing year of the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. Peterson.

A short program followed reception of guests, who gathered in the beautifully decorated drawing room to hear the music. There was "Little Boy Blue," "Bob White," some little "Campbells," tiny tots in beautiful and fashionable array, a delight to the eye if not to the ear. Dorothy Dow gave a sweet solo, and Mrs. Campbell sang "A Mother's Christmas Night." Master Julius Kranz rendered "Romance" on the violin and "Simple Aven" as an encore. Miss Pulliam delighted the little ones with her impersonation of a darkey and clog dance. Mrs. A. L. Bryant gave the lullaby "Where did You Come From, Baby Dear."

Then Santa Claus arrived with great eclat and there was wild delight. Forming a grand march, all kept time to lively music and the dining room doors opened, revealing the sparkling tree loaded down with gifts. A very handsome sailor boy in full costume and apropos of nothing in particular, arrived just in time to aid old Santa in the distribution of presents. Later dainty Christmas refreshments were served, Misses Emma Williams and Blanche Davenport, dressed as babies, assisting. Lively music and games brought the happy afternoon to a close.

GLENDALE, CAL., DECEMBER 26, 1908

The Rev. E. F. Walker of San Dimas refused to pay the fines of his two sons who were convicted of throwing rocks at a Japanese whose conduct met with their disapproval. The reverend gentleman should have his salary raised at once. We are glad to note that the "Roman Fathers" are not extinct.

The King of England was thought for a short time last week to be dangerously ill. We are among those who sincerely admire this sterling gentleman who sits upon the English throne and rejoice that he is not yet to leave it. He does not play to the gallery, but is a power for peace in the world.

The Santa Fe railroad company announces that it will build no more railroads in Oklahoma while the present constitution remains as it is. Some of the crude statesmen of that exuberant state may now learn through this object lesson that capial is something that can be induced but not successfully coerced into doing works that benefit the people.

The reception of Richard Croker in New York, accorded him by many dignitaries of the city and others, is a most amizing examp'e of snobbishness. Many men who have really done something for the world, enter New York from abroad every year and are permitted to go their way unnoticed by the sycophantic crowd. Croker robbed New York by a skillful political system within the pale of the law, went abroad and remained for years and then returning was received with honors. He is wealthy. Verily, "Nothing succeeds like success."

THE NEW YEAR'S OUTLOOK.

While we go to press nearly a week before New Year's day, it may be more seasonable now than a week hence, to wish all of our readers a "Happy New Year." We have much to be thankful for in existing conditions and in the encouraging signs for future growth and prosperity. Our business concerns generally report business much better than it was a year ago, notwithstanding that competition has entered along some lines. The building conditions are most encouraging: new homes are being built in all quarters of our community, and two new blocks will soon be started, each of two stories, in brick. The merits of this section are becoming more generally known daily to the outside world and vigorous healthy growth is the noticeable condition of our city and the section adjacent to it.

Look whichever way we will, there is a cheerful glow on the horizon that greets our vision. Welcome to 1909!

THE CONVICTION OF LABOR LEADERS.

Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment for violation of orders given by the court in reference to certain injunctions in Boycott cases.

No doubt this action of the court will be bitterly criticised in some quarters, but the case is really a very simple one. Mr. Gompers openly asserted in a publication controlled by him that he did not intend to obey the orders of the court; as a matter of fact he did not obey them, and in addition advised others not to do so. No court with any regard for its own dignity or the rights of all the people who are superior to any combinations of labor, capital or anything else, could do otherwise than uphold the law by whatever power it possesses to do so. Mr. Mitchell and the others were convicted of assisting Mr. Gompers in defying the law. The differences of opinion existing as to the rightness or wrongness of the boycott should not confuse any one's mind in deciding the simpler question. When individuals or combinations of individuals set themselves up as a law unto themselves, and assume the right to act independently of the law, they become a menace to society and should receive neither aid nor sympathy.

DIRECT LEGISLATION.

The General Legislation League of California, with headquarters at Berkeley, asks our co-operation in securing the passage of some proposed-to-be reform laws, among them the "Initiative," the "Referendum" and the "Direct Primary." The preamble informs us that the league is "Organized for the purpose of ending corrupt political rule in city, county and state by placing in the hands of the people those instruments of direct legislation that make representative government truly represenative." This is certainly a worthy platform upon which to build and we do not for a moment doubt the purity of the motives that influence the leaders of this movement. But we cannot agree in the implication that state, county and municipal government is so generally corrupt as to make any such radical changes in our laws necessary; neither do we believe that corruption where it does exist is the result of the absence of such laws as it is here proposed to enact. In brief, we do not believe that the people are helpless under existing laws: on the contrary, we are convinced that the people have power to do all these things which the new legislation proposes, without lumbering up our statute books with machinery which they will use no more wisely nor vigilantly than they use that which they now possess.

An idea prevails in some quarters that our public representatives are quite commonly recreant to the trust confided in them. On the contrary the reverse of this proposition is true. It is very rarely that a man elected to perform some particular service or to support a certain measure, fails to act upon such instruction. Indeed, it is not uncommon for our representatives to follow such instructions implicitly, although their own better judgment would lead them to do differently. We have an illustration of this in Los Angeles county at the present time. The last Republican County Association (delegates elected by the direct vote of the people) instructed its delegation to Sacramento at the coming session of the legislature, to support George C. Perkins for senator; not only that but they went further and instructed the holdovers to support Frank P. Flint for re-election two years hence! These instructions will, no doubt, be obeyed, although some of our representatives in doing so will act contrary to their intelligent and conscientious convictions. The present primary election law puts all power into the hands of the voters, but they too generally fail to use it. Many of the most intelligent and best intentioned of the voters remain away from the polls, preferring to spend their time in incubating some patent scheme of government, which being once set in motion will regulate the universe automatically. The system of direct legislation proposed by the league is all right in theory; it is such a beautiful structure in fact that if we had it in our power to do so, we would not topple it over; but until a new light dawns upon us we shall refuse to enthuse.

THE WEATHER.

During the past week the appearance of the ground during the early morning hours has reminded the observer of "back East," a coating of frost being generally visible. The mercury has touched thirty degrees and even lower in spots. No harm has resulted except to foliage plants.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Folsom of Los Angeles was a Friday guest of Mrs. C. O. Pulliam.

Installation of officers occurs at the Unity Lodge, F. and A. M., next Tuesday evening.

Remember that your Glendale city taxes will become delinquent after Monday next.

Mrs. C. F. Parker spent part of the week in Azusa, called there by the illness of a relative.

Mrs. McCoy entertained Christmas guests. The usual festivities pertaining to the season were enjoyed.

Christmas music and Christmas sermons, morning and evening, at the Presbyterian Church, next Sunday.

Miss Nora Harnett of Long Beach and formerly of Glendale, spent the week end with Miss Ida M. Waite, Third street.

Our fellow townswoman, Mrs. Ellen B. Newcomb, is the author of some pleasing verses that appeared in last Sunday's Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell are entertaining Mr. Campbell's son, Ray, who is here from North Dakota for the holiday season.

Fred S. Evans has sold his place on 5th street to Mr. J. W. Ashley of Buffalo, N. Y., who will move in with his family in a short time.

Mrs. Mary Colburn spent Christmas at Highland Park, participating in a reunion at the home of Mrs. Bertram Moore of Aldama street.

Mrs. John Ward and daughters entertained Miss Alma Norton of Cucamongo and formerly of Glendale, from Thursday until Saturday.

Miss Eunice Parker of Los Angeles and family of Frankfort, Michigan, spent Christmas at "The Bungle-O," on Cedar street, as guest of old-time schoolmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominy of Brand boulevard on Saturday evening entertained coterie of friends with whist. Refreshments were served. About sixteen were present.

Mrs. Frank Taylor, principal of the West Glendale School, will spend a part of the holidays in Berkeley and participate in a family reunion there, at the home of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Banker, Miss Lavina Banker, Mrs. E. T. Byram and daughter, Miss Ruth Byram, spent Christmas with Mr. Wm. D. Byram of Valencia street, Los Angeles.

Quite a happy surprise was accorded Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Buck, Tuesday, by their daughter and granddaughter dropping in on them from Phoenix, Ariz., to spend the holidays.

Several items of importance as showing the growth of Glendale, Tropico and vicinity during the year just ending, will appear next week, it being impossible to get the complete reports for this issue.

The Hotel Maryland's special car ran out to Casa Verdugo one Sunday recently, substituting that popular resort on its itinerary for the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, where the "dry" season now prevails.

Mrs. Mary O. Ryan entertained the faculties of the Fourth street Grammar School and the Sixth Street Grammar school on Friday with a delicious Spanish dinner. Christmas toasts made the occasion very happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stine gave an old-time Christmas party in their new home on Pacific avenue, into which they have just moved. The house is a very fine one, "something different," and a description of it will appear later.

"Ard E'even,' the beautiful foothills home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell will be filled to overflowing for the holidays. A great Christmas banquet and a tree were features of the week. Some of the guests arrived just in time from England.

Mrs. Doffelmeyer has purchased of H. C. Ackley the corner on Seventh and Brand boulevard, 65x100 feet, which was formerly used as a tennis court, etc. The intention is to build thereon a very handsome residence in the near future.

The Pacific Electric will run a couple of cars as a special through from Glendale to Pasadena on New Year's day, leaving the depot at Fourth street at 8 o'clock a. m., so as to give our people a chance to see the annual Tournament of Roses.

Mr. W. R. Walker of Long Beach has this week moved into the handsome house erected for him by J. Banker on the newly subdivided Hackman tract. The house has many unique features, all modern improvements and a living room 16x30. Cost about $2000.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery gave a Christmas party to thirty-five who received presents from a huge tree and entered into the lively spirit of Christmas games. Later the guests broke up into three parties and three splendid Christmas feasts were the result.

Miss Ida M. Waite on Sunday evening entertained a number of teachers of the Grammar and Union High schools in her new apartments on Third street. A Christmas feast at six o'clock was a tempting diversion, with holly and candle light accessories.

We understand that the Pacific Electric is to put on additional car service on the Glendale line next week. We rejoice with proper restrictions. This prevents our mentioning the fact that a car going into Los Angeles on Monday last with seats for 56 people, carried 94.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fraley of Glendale avenue on Christmas day entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Anderssen and daughter, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Newcomb and family, Mrs. Ellen B. Newcomb, Mrs. Fraley of La Crescenta and several other relatives of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, of Los Angeles, have bought the Suburban Dry Goods store on Brand boulevard and have become residents of Glendale. They have already greatly increased the stock and will make further additions in a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Walker and little daughter have come here with the intention of making Glendale their home and propose to grow up with our town.

Mr. Anthony Ambrosini, owner of the property on the northeast corner of Fifth and Jackson, and other lots and acreage in this vicinity, returns Sunday morning to St. Paul, where he is in business. Mr. Ambrosini has spent ten days or so in Southern California at this time and returns to Minnesota more firmly convinced than before that his investments in our city have not been a mistake. While out here he visited San Diego and Catalina Island and enjoyed Southern California to the utmost. He looks forward to returning with his family some time to make his home among us.

Rev. McGilvray Gandier, assistant superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday last. Mr. Gandier is an eloquent and forceful speaker and an earnest advocate of the principles of the league. His principal desire as a practical worker at present is to bring all influence possible to bear upon our representatives in the legislature to induce them to so amend or change the present law that counties (ouside of municipalities) may by petition secure the right to vote upon the question of local option without the consent of the supervisors being required as at present.

CHOCOLATE PARTY AND SPELL-DOWN.

At the West Glendale School exercises for the closing day were unique. The "littlest ones" gave to their mammas, with the assistance of the principal, Mrs. F. G. Taylor, a pretty chocolate party. Hot chocolate piled high with whipped cream, dainty cookies, etc., were served. The Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades entertained the grown-ups with a rousing old-fashioned spell-down and the Third, Fourth and Fifth grades enjoyed a beautiful tree. Corn was popped right at the school, chocolate made on the spot, and with the great array of of holiday greens the whole building was redolent with Christmas.

HOME DEPARTMENT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Presbyterians have added a Home Department to the Sunday School for the purpose of encouraging Bible study among those who are interested in the International Lessons but are not attendants at Sunday School. The sole condition of membership is an agreement to devote at least a half hour weekly to the study of the Bible. Persons desiring to be enrolled should communicate with the Superintendent of the Home department connected with the local church.

Long Beach school board recently decided to set at defiance the state law and refuse to have public school children vaccinated; subsequently they reconsidered, however, and the youngsters are now comparing sore arms.
